

APPOINTMENT OF JOAQUIN CAMACHO ARRIOLA, JR. AS GUAM'S LAWYER REPRESENTATIVE FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

The Honorable Frances M. Tydingco-Gatewood, Chief Judge of the District Court of Guam, is pleased to announce her appointment of Attorney Joaquin C. Arriola, Jr., as the new Lawyer Representative to the Lawyer Representative Coordinating Committee [LRCC] for the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. Attorney Arriola is replacing Alicia Limtiaco, Guam's newly elected attorney general. He will be a member of the LRCC for the next three years, with his term extending from 2007-2009. Attorney Arriola is an active litigator and has been practicing in the federal court system for more than fifteen years. As a new member to the LRCC, Attorney Arriola looks forward to representing Guam and to actively contributing toward the committee's mission. The LRCC is a committee that includes the Chair or Co-Chairs of every lawyer representative delegation throughout the Ninth Circuit. The LRCC provides the circuit with important services in program planning, conference development, and advocacy initiatives that the Chief Judge may call upon members of the bar to undertake.

Attorney Joaquin C. Arriola, Jr.

Attorney Joaquin C. Arriola, Jr. is a partner with Guam's oldest law office, the law firm of Arriola, Cowan & Arriola. As a trial attorney, Jay's practice emphasizes criminal defense and civil litigation, and includes family and probate law as well. He served as the President of the Guam Bar Association for eight years.